NO FALLS WHERE FRANK SPENT LAST DAYS

DEUTONS GET FAST BOOT

PETROGRAD, Aug. 18.—The evacuation of Vilna has begun. Announcement to this effect was officially made by the War Office today. Vilna is being bombarded continuously by German aeroplanes.

BERLIN, Aug. 18 (By Wire).—Kovno, the great Niemen River fortress at the northern end of the second line of Russian defence, has fallen. German troops captured the stronghold by storm last night it was officially announced today.

Two more forts at Novo Georgievsk have also been captured by the Germans and General von Mackensen has driven the Russians into the outer defences of Brest-Litovsk. The forces of Prince Leopold of Bavaria have crossed the Kamianka and reached the River Bug. The Russian troops left to hold Kovno offered resistance, but the assault of General Litman's forces was irresistible.

In the forts of Kovno the Germans captured war booty, including more than 400 cannon. The official announcement of Kovno's fall follows: "The fortress of Kovno, together with all the forts and uncaptured war material, has been in German hands since last night. More than 400 cannon were taken. "The fortress was stormed and taken by assault in spite of most tenacious resistance by the Russians. Kovno is the first great fortress to be captured by direct assault since the war began. Kovno was taken by storm by the army of General von Falkes, but it does not compare in strength and importance with Kovno. The magnitude of the German victory at Kovno is shown by the fact that the Germans captured more than 400 cannon.

VAST BOOTY. It will be some time before the vast quantity of war materials taken at Kovno can be enumerated. Great stores of munitions, small arms, supplies, guns, and considerable ammunition fell into the hands of the Teutonic forces. The capture of Kovno is another great triumph for Field Marshal von Hindenburg, the German commander-in-chief, whose talents have been responsible for the smash-up of the Russian defence in Poland.

With Kovno in German hands, the Teutonic troops that took the city are expected to move forward against the defences of Vilna.

It has been decided to issue children's insurance to all ages, from one year of age upwards.

Add More Ships to Submarines' List of Victims

By International News Service. LONDON, Aug. 18.—More neutral ships have been sunk by German submarines. It was announced today. Two were the Norwegian steamers Mineral and Homulus. The crews of both vessels were saved.

The Irish trawler George has been sunk by a submarine. The crew was saved. The British steamer Bonny and the Spanish steamer Isidoro have also been sunk by submarines. The crews of the two ships were landed today. The Isidoro is the first Spanish ship sunk by a U-boat. This steamer was of 2,644 tons, was built in 1897 and hailed from Bilbao. The Isidoro's home port was Liverpool. It displaced 2,792 tons and was built in 1901.

By International News Service. ZURICH, Aug. 18.—According to a dispatch from Vienna, it is reported in the Austrian capital that Prince Teodor, at the express command of the Czar, has gone to Nish from Belgrade with a letter signed personally by Czar Nicholas, expressing the writer's judgment that Serbia ought to cede her Macedonian territory to Bulgaria in order to secure Bulgaria's support for the allies.

100 KILLED IN TEXAS STORM

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 18.—The United Fruit steamer Maestri, from Hatter, B. M., with 100 passengers on board, is now two days overdue and fears were expressed today for her safety. She was directly in the path of the West India hurricane, and although five vessels arrived today, after passing her regular path, all reported that they had seen nothing of her.

HOUSTON, Tex., Aug. 18.—Meagre but authentic reports that have reached Houston today indicate that the loss of life in the great tropical storm will probably reach 100, outside of Galveston.

There has been no direct word from Galveston, but it is feared that there has been loss of life there. The property loss in Galveston will be enormous. Governor Ferguson will attempt to get into Galveston tonight or tomorrow to learn the extent of the storm. The State is preparing to rush supplies of tents, blankets, medicines and food to the stricken city. Martial law prevails at Texas City, where there has been heavy loss of life.

Six hundred extra policemen have been sworn in at Houston to guard property from looting. The State National Guard is expected to be called out to help in the relief work. Sixty-seven are reported dead at Texas City, eight at Morgan's Point and six at LaPorte. "At least 27 lives were lost at Texas City," says the Houston Chronicle. "This loss of life included twelve United States soldiers. "The fatalities occurred when several buildings collapsed under the force of the terrific wind. Nine United States soldiers were killed when a three-story building fell on them, and three were drowned."

35,000 ATTEND HURL BOMBS ON OPENING OF NEW PARK

By RIGHT FIELD. BRAVES FIELD, Aug. 18.—In the midst of a shouting and tumult the like of which has not been seen in Boston for many a day, the World's Championship flag, won by the Braves, was flung to the breeze this afternoon from the pole in right center field of the Champions' immense and costly new home, before a crowd estimated at 35,000. "The raising of the yellow and blue pennant awarded the Braves as the result of their rushing to the top of their own league last season and then defeating Connie Mack's Athletics—champions of the American League—in four straight games, was the central feature of the dedication of the largest baseball park in the world. Headed by the Ninth Regiment Band and a band secured by the loyal Rooters, the procession moved to the far corner of the park. President John K. Tener of the National League, confederate Clifford of Braves, Major General Stallins and Huguenot of the Cardinals were in the line. The entire roster of the Braves and St. Louis Cardinals were in the line.

A tremendous outpouring of "fans" was present. The gates of the park were thrown open at 1:30 and there was a scramble for the honor of being among the first to enter. The more than twenty cursties slipped and tumbled up to game time and kept on well into the game itself. All roads led to Altman and it was one of the biggest days in Boston's baseball history. Today's rush overshadowed the historic opening of Fenway.

By International News Service. BILLY, Hatz, Aug. 18.—A dispatch from Bucharest says that Bulgaria has requisitioned all the grain bought in that country for Germany.

Anxious Over 3,000 Men in Texas Camps

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—War Department officials were worried today concerning the 4,000 soldiers forming the Fourth Brigade, who have been in camp at Galveston, Texas. No report of any kind has been received regarding either their condition or the loss of life at Texas City, where the collapse of a building is said to have killed twelve soldiers.

Venizelos to Form a "War Cabinet"

ATHENS, Aug. 18.—Former Premier Venizelos has accepted King Constantine's commission to form a "war cabinet." He conferred with several of his supporters. It is understood that Venizelos plans to form a "war cabinet," which will contain leader of the various Greek parties, including some of the Ministers who served during the German occupation.

Three Negroes Set Free Are Lynched

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Aug. 18.—Three negroes, recently freed on charges of poisoning milk on the McLean plantation, were lynched early today near Hartsell. One of the negroes has not been identified positively, but the other two are "Ruf" Jackson and Frank Russell. The bodies after being roasted with bullets were thrown into a ditch.

STATE TO PUNISH MOB

ATLANTA, Ga., Aug. 18.—Governor Nat Harris made a hurried return to the State House here from Fitzgerald, Ga., today and at once took definite steps for a thorough investigation of the lynching of Leo M. Frank. It was announced that the Governor would show no mercy to the slayers of Frank if they were caught.

The Governor made his statement emphatic—that he would overlook no opportunity to bring the lynchers to justice.

His first act today was to start the search for those who kidnapped Frank from the Millidgeville penitentiary and hanged him from a tree at Marietta.

The Governor said he was "mortified at the disgraceful compromise and that he would have the fullest inquiry. "I had planned to stay in Fitzgerald over Wednesday," he stated, "but this horrible affair forced me to return here to take such steps as will immediately bring to justice those who are guilty of this despicable crime."

THUNDERBOLT TALK. While Frank's body was on the way to his mother's home in Brooklyn today, there was talk here that arrests might be looked for. But officers were silent.

500 More Marines Landed in Haiti

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—Five hundred more marines were landed at Cape Haitien, Haiti, today, from the U. S. cruiser Tennessee because of the refusal of the Haitian rebels to lay down their arms. The marines were fully equipped for active service and it is expected they will go to the interior. Armed automobiles are being fitted up for the American use. The Caca, tribesmen, have massed on the northern coast and are threatening to cause trouble. Admiral Caproni advised the Navy Department today. Caps Haitien and Port-au-Prince were reported quiet.

German Discovers New Kind of Rays

By International News Service. BERLIN, Aug. 18.—Prof. Goldstein, a German physicist, has discovered a new kind of rays, belonging to the same class of usefulness as the famous violet rays. They are called bottle rays because they are produced from a Leyden bottle and are of different color as they are exposed to different gases. Bottle rays are variously shaped and at the end seem to dissolve into clouds of gases.

MACHINISTS A NATION-WIDE STRIKE-MOVE

By International News Service.
WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—One of the most gigantic strikes that has gripped this country in years will be called soon to force the granting of an eight-hour day to machinists. It became known here today.

Leaders are now preparing to issue a call that will cause 100,000 machinists throughout the country, from the Atlantic to the Pacific and from the Canadian border to the Gulf of Mexico to lay down their tools. As many more workmen whose work is affected by the machinists, also will walk out. Three hundred thousand metal workers, forming one of the strongest unions in existence, will finance the strike of the machinists. The metal workers will not walk out, but they will supply funds for the striking machinists to live upon.

A strike of machinists in the Pittsburgh district will be called soon, according to W. H. Johnston, president of the International Association of Machinists. Johnston today declared that an independent movement had been started in the Pittsburgh district to force an action for an eight-hour day. The Westinghouse industries will be affected, he said.

The limiting of the machinists' strike to the New England region, therefore has been definitely abandoned. It was believed today upon reliable authority. All of the arms and ammunition factories in the country will be affected. It is still all other industries which machinists are employed.

800 Machinists in Pawtucket Strike

PAWTUCKET, R. I., Aug. 18.—Between 800 and 900 machinists, employed by Foster & Johnston, struck today. The men have been running day and night for a year, making machinery used in the manufacture of machine guns for the allies. Their demand an increase of five cents an hour, the reduction of a nine-hour day to eight hours, and time and a half for overtime work.

Becker Says Hyde Park Strikers Lose

The strike at the Becker Milling Machine Company's Hyde Park, Mass., is broken, according to a statement made today by Manager John Becker. He said: "We have won. In our shops 250 machinists working and 100 who have been asked to get back. We will give them that opportunity. We ought to have 500 men working by tomorrow."

'HAREM VEIL' IS LATEST FAD OF NEWPORT WOMEN

Mrs. Hamilton W. Carey is shown here wearing a "harem veil," the latest society fad at Newport. In her arms is "Newport Nipper," her prize bulldog.

The "harem veil" is the latest of fashion's fads in gay Newport. It was introduced by Mrs. Hamilton W. Carey at the Newport dog show, and it made a hit.

Mrs. Carey is here shown with her veil innovation and her prize bull, "Newport Nipper."

The veil shows the sparkle of the wearer's eyes and that is all. The upper part is of course weave, but the lower part is opaque, concealing the features.

Debutantes think the "harem veil" a delightful novelty. They are using it as they are to go. To them it plays the part of a mask and they are having no end of fun concealing their identity from friends at fetes.

VILAS SPREADING NEW TERROR BY EXECUTIONS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—The next step in the administration of Mexican policy will hinge on the reports made to President Wilson by General Carranza, head of the Mexican government. He will probably confer with the President next Monday.

Meanwhile, up to the present time, not a single Carranza general or civil government head has made a move to accept the invitation extended by the United States and Latin American nations to join in a conference. Carranza seems to dominate the situation and until the influence now being brought to bear upon Carranza by the United States and Latin American nations is successful, the possibility of establishing a provisional government that will have the support of all factions is very remote.

UNREST INCREASING.
The unrest among the Mexicans is increasing, this strengthening the anxiety of foreigners. Vilas has created a vertical line of fear throughout Chihuahua by the wholesale execution of former intimates, according to reports of diplomats.

Confidential representatives of interests here with strong financial connections in Northern Mexico say that Villa preside has suffered a severe blow and Carranza is likely to wipe out the best part of his army at Torreon.

A report on the fighting on the Texas border last Monday night, when one trooper was killed and an officer and another trooper wounded, reached War Department today from General Funston.

Colonel John Williams of Troop C, Twelfth Cavalry, was killed. Lieutenant Williams was also killed. The troops were shot three times in the arm. The fighting occurred at Progresso, near Torreon.

HEAVY BOMBING AT TORREON.
Along the border the drastic tactics of General Funston are having their effect. Torreon, where the Villa (franchise) can be crossed is now well patrolled by American soldiers, with instructions that all armed Mexicans are to be prevented crossing. Those who do not heed the warnings are turned back with bullets and, according to Funston's latest reports, "the situation is well in hand."

VILLA SOLDIERS PUT TO DEATH FOR PLOT TO KILL GOVERNOR

NOGALLES, Ariz., Aug. 18.—Several Villistas soldiers in the arsenal at Nogales, Sonora, last across the border, were executed at dawn, being charged with completing a plot to assassinate Governor Jose Maytorena.

Captain Rojas of Governor Maytorena's personal guard and two other officers were executed last night. A bomb with a time fuse attached was found in a room next to the headquarters of Maytorena and an investigation attached blame to the men who were subsequently executed.

Prisoners of war, who are only a few miles from Nogales, are still advancing.

Roof Fire Fails to Interrupt Dinners

Fifty guests in Maxton's restaurant at No. 21 Beattle street continued on their breakfasts early today while firemen, with hand and chemicals, fought a chimney fire on the roof. On either side of the restaurant is the Crawford House and the Quaker House. Most of the guests had dinner, but a few late there awake long enough to telephone to the hotel for food and ask about the fire. There was much smoke, but no damage.

SOX OPEN STIFF SERIES IN WEST

CHICAGO, Aug. 15.—The Red Sox from Boston, fully of desire for the Chicagoans' mammoth array of baseball batters when they were in mid-July, involving the daylight out of the sun, and the day after tomorrow, and even yesterday, the club's penultimate chance, are back in the field.

"General Bill" Carrigan arrived with his hungry outfit last night and is expected to remain in Chicago until Friday evening. That means three trips, with No. 1 on the boards for the first.

Red Sox most of the summer, the Easterners now stand six games to the good of the home club, so the White Sox must put the best unexpected and scores all three matches in this series if they are to get back in the thick of the running.

Yes, the White Sox must make a clean sweep if they are to get back in the thick of the running. But even their most ardent admirers don't see how they can do so. Nor does Carrigan. In fact, he says, "I don't see how they can do so."

"General Bill" is a man of few words, and states he doesn't see how they can do so. "I don't see how they can do so," he says.

toric rushes to the Harvard Stadium on the day of the football game with Yale.

Special street cars drew up to the park pedaled to the limit with eager throngs. Hundreds of auto parties drove into the parking space. Thousands of fans living not too far distant walked to the new field.

The dedication of the largest baseball park in the world and the raising of the World's Champion Flag—were by the Braves last October, when they humbled "Connie" Mack's once great machine in four straight games, and made themselves the wonder of the baseball world—are the two great events of the day.

Historically, the Braves clashed with the St. Louis Cardinals in the first game of their scheduled series.

There were thousands of school children in one section of the pavilion. Politicians and firemen were admitted to showing their badges.

Governor Walsh and many other State officials saw the game, so did Mayor Curley, members of the Boston city government, and thousands and thousands of "fans" who are pulling hard for the Braves to repeat their feat of last year to the top.

The Ninth Regiment Band and the local brass band were in the line.

But the most of the day's excitement was the match in the flagpole.

The flag was hoisted by Mayor Curley, and the crowd was in a state of excitement.

HORTON OF THE BRAVES

I am mighty glad that we are finally entrenched at our new ball park at Alton. More hoping that we have good luck at Braves Field and that we play good enough ball for the rest of the season to win the National League pennant and then defeat the best club in the American League in the World's Series. We are not in the least bit discouraged because we are not in first place today. How Stallings has a hand of dealers under his coat and each as on still believes that we will get into the big series in October.

Strand worked like a Trojan at our training camp at Macon, Georgia. He was very quick in getting into condition and when the teams were sent from the post in April, the youngster was going at top speed. He did well in the few games he worked early in the season. Strand then came to his pitching arm and rheumatism as. This put him out of commission. Strand could not throw a ball for weeks, but he is now able to pitch again. His arm is not yet strong enough to enable him to go the full nine innings but a couple of contracts before he is named to start a championship team.

There are few players on our team who deserve as much credit for keeping the outfit up to the flag as Hughes. "Rube" Hughes is not a young man, but a young citizen since the championship.

MATT TV. BALDWIN IS DEFEATED BY SAILOR

ATLAS A. A. RESULTS.
Baltimore "Punch" sailor defeated Matt Baldwin, ex-vice champion, in a round, eight rounds.
C. Goodwin knocked out Pat Hecox, five rounds.
Bottling Joe Carroll knocked out Harry Long, three rounds.

MATT BALDWIN, the idol of New England boxing, "Gabe" for more than a decade, seems to grow more conspicuous as he gets along in years. The grand old warrior has always been considered one of the greatest fighters that has ever been developed in this section of the country. His big heart and wonderful ring generalship have enabled him to win many thrilling battles.

Baldwin engaged in another bout at the Atlas A. A. last night. His opponent was William "Tough" Sawyer, the Indianapolis lightweight. Baldwin was given a decisive setback, but he nevertheless won many friends by the way he fought. He was outclassed from the start, but kept fighting hard until the eighth round, at the end of the twelfth frame.

It was Sawyer's blow from the start. He took the aggressive in the opening session, and the shading left and right-hand blows to Baldwin's head and body enabled him to pile up a big lead.

MATT was forced to take the count of nine in the fourth round. The blow that took the action to the Charleston was landed near the end of the third round. It was a solid left-hand punch to the stomach.

When Baldwin came from his corner at the opening of the fourth stanza, he was in poor condition. Sawyer immediately started to force the issue. He stepped directly left and right-hand punches on the back of the neck and Matt went to the mat. He was tired, but not dazed. He wisely took the benefit of the count, he then regained his feet and fought strongly.

SOUND BODIES

By JULIAN HAWTHORNE.
This is the thirty-fourth of a series of articles on "Sound Bodies" written exclusively for the Boston AMERICAN by Julius Hawthorne. These articles will be continued in the AMERICAN on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays.

Take first position, with the feet at right angles. Put your hands on your hips. Turn your head half way toward the right. Now take a long step outward, in the direction in which your right foot is pointing. Keep the body erect from the hips upward, and the chin well up. Keep the rear leg straight, and the rear foot flat on the ground, which necessitates leading the subtle outward.

The long step should have been of the right knee nearly or quite a right angle. Next your weight on that knee and foot; the left foot rests on the rear leg, just to hold you in position. The body always erect, remember—no leaning forward toward the right knee. Adam's apple in, chest full, elbows back, head up.

That long muscle along the front of the thigh is the one that is vital in the most of your movements. The position a minute, you will feel that the right knee is getting plenty of work, too. And by and by you will find yourself inclined to teeter a little on the right foot; that is because you have allowed your body to get a little out of plumb, to one side or the other. You won't want to stay more than thirty seconds, or twenty. Before you recover first position, you will be aware that other muscles besides those of the knee and right thigh are getting the benefit of the extension.

The recovery must be made with a single, prompt, elastic movement, the impulse starting from the ball of the right foot. Refrain as much as possible from other little movements that have their baseball club and their baseball bat in them. This is a position, in an emergency, that is essential to the National game ever demonstrated.

Baseball Over the Wire.
New York, Aug. 15.—The National game was played today at the Polo Grounds. The Boston Braves defeated the New York Giants, 4 to 3. The game was a close one, with the Braves leading in the ninth inning, but the Giants scored a run in the bottom of the ninth to win.

BIG BIKERS PLAN TO DEFEAT CHAMPION

TONIGHT'S RACE CARD.
5-MILE, MOTOR-RACED RACE—George Wiley, Syracuse, N. Y., vs. Clarence Carson, Jamaica, L. I., vs. Victor Kiarat, Antwerp, Belgium, vs. Georges Herve, Paris, France, Amateur and Professional Events.

German, Lantz and Rere, three of the greatest race followers in the world, will attempt to smash the winning streak of George Wiley in a 5-mile motor-raced race at the Haverly Cycle Track tonight.

Wiley has been going along too smoothly to suit some of the "big time" riders and they are going into it tonight to see if something can't be done in the way of breaking up his record.

Wiley is following up the lead of last night. It will be remembered that the Haverly had things much his own way during the early part of the season, but as soon as the American riders got going, right things began to break differently.

Carson is especially anxious to score on Wiley. The former champion has been unfortunate in his last three starts, but expects to get going again this evening.

The tip is out that Rere will beat Wiley tonight. According to word received from New York yesterday, Frankman has been doing very well at Sheepshead Bay and Philadelphia and is about due.

Benton Case Has Dreyfuss Kicking Up a Hullabaloo

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 15.—Barney Dreyfuss, president of the Pirates, will fight to the end to retain the services of Pitcher "Babe" Benton, the ex-Red, and declares he will take the case to the courts if such a step is necessary.

Benton joined the Pirates and pitched a winning game against the Cubs yesterday. His victory was protested by Clarence Brannaman, who claimed Benton rightfully belongs to the Giants.

President Tener wired Dreyfuss that all games in which Benton takes part with Pittsburgh will not stand and that Dreyfuss must turn him over to McGraw.

Miss Detroit Wins Trophy.
NEW YORK, Aug. 15.—Miss Detroit won the gold challenge cup of the American Yacht Boat Association. She covered the 50 miles in 21 hrs. 21 sec.

Delmont to Box Sheppard.
At Delmont, the veteran North End featherweight, will be back in the ring again next Monday night. He will meet Charley Sheppard of New York in a 12-round skirmish before the Lamoine A. C. in Gloucester.

SWIMMERS TRY FOR LIGHT MARK

The L Street swimming Club will hold another race from Charlestown Bridge to Boston Light tomorrow. The poor weather conditions that existed during the race held July 25, caused the start to be made in the morning.

The start will be made at 2:30 p. m. in order to get full advantage of the tide. Many good swimmers, including Henry Miron, winner of the last race, and Charles Toth, who finished second, are included in the list of entries.

Cannot Sell Sanford Burk.
PITTSBURGH, Aug. 15.—An additional order, preventing the Pittsburgh Pirates from disposing in any way of pitcher Sanford Burk, was jumped from the Indianapolis American Association club.

Judge Ambrose held in Common Pleas Court. The order retains the club from selling, trading, hiring out, farming or otherwise disposing of Burk's services.

Willard Didn't Fall for Johnson's Wiles

It was a big surprise to Jack Johnson when Willard refused to fall for the tempting offer made him to uncover. It changed his whole plan of battle.

Tomorrow the champion takes up each round of the fight, from two to six, and tells how and why he did what he did—and what Johnson did to him at the same time.

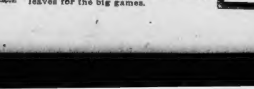

Al Delmont, the veteran North End featherweight, will be back in the ring again next Monday night. He will meet Charley Sheppard of New York in a 12-round skirmish before the Lamoine A. C. in Gloucester.

REPORT GIANTS' TRIO ON MARKET

NEW YORK, Aug. 15.—Rumors are being circulated that Rube Marquard, Chief Meyers and Fred Snodgrass are about to be traded by Manager McGraw of the Giants. McGraw, it is said, is not satisfied with the way the trio has been performing this year, and is also desirous of freeing out his old-timers and building up a new club on similar lines to the way Connie Mack is remodeling the Athletics.

Alger and Wood in New Bedford Bout
George Alger, the Cambridge welterweight, will meet Ray Wood of Fall River in a twelve-round tussle in New Bedford next Tuesday night. Both boxers have already started to prepare themselves for the match.

WON BIG FIGHT IN FIRST ROUND, SAYS WILLARD

By JESS WILLARD.
(Copyright, 1915, by A. Everett. All Rights Reserved.)

I THINK that the first time I ever really knew fear was on my way to the ring. There is no speed law in Havana and no bullet ever went faster than some of those automobiles.

We saw five or six smashed machines to the roadside, and after that we just hugged the earth and prayed for the end of our journey. Nobody is safe from a fool.

We reached the race track at 1:15 and went into the ring at once. The crowd gave me a tremendous cheer as I passed through and to quote one of the newspaper writers, I "grinned inanely."

I reckon he was right. Even now I am not able to take applause without feeling like a fool. I lived in the open places too long to like the "cheap" stuff.

Johnson was already in the ring and having quite a time with his chair. It had arms on it and when he went to sit down he found that he was too broad in the beam. His enemies knocked the arms off and made a stool out of it.

I had on a sweater and my regular trousers and I took them off at once, stripping down to my fighting trunks. I handed my clothes to the Cuban interpreter, expressly telling him to be careful of them. The fool got excited by the important and threw my trousers and sweater away, and I had an awful time getting trousers to go back home in.

Johnson was wearing a white bathrobe with black stripes, and when he tossed it off I took my first good look at him. He looked as powerful as a prize fighter, and I thought that I had never seen a bear close or pair of arms.

As my eyes went down, however, I saw a roll of fat hanging over the drawing of his trunk. Even if I tried to put a glove on him in twenty rounds, I knew that roll of fat would win for me. Back of it was a man's body. Hard work as a prizefighter filled it out until he was one of the world's strong men.

I entered the prize ring and there came a day when this man of slaves stood before the whole world as its very finest specimen of physical manhood.

The roundabout, cow champion, had more money than he had ever dreamed of, and, bigger than everything, he had the chance to help his race by setting it a good example. Instead of that he abandoned both himself and his people by plunging into a life of vice and dissipation. The worst of it was that there were white men and white women degenerate enough to join in the work of dragging the poor fool down.

At a time when he should have been doing his best to win respect he was running away from officers of the law and forced to find a house in another land, a fugitive from justice.

And now he sat there in front of me, old before his time, and with nothing to show for his wasted years and squandered fortune but a roll of fat sagging down over his trunk.

I knew that I was going to whip him and I could see his blush as plain as though the things were happening before my very eyes. One day, when a man should be at his best, weak of heart and hard of liver, broke, to all probability, and deserted by the bums and scoundrels who had no interest in anything except the poor devil's money.

As I sat there I swore again that I would never touch whiskey and that even though all the money in the world came to me I would keep away from the "white light."

I saw Johnson nod and grin to somebody back of me and I asked Tom Jones who it was.

"His wife," Tom whispered, "she's a look over their right back of your corner."

A man should be better at forty than at twenty. When you hear of a man being "all in" as forty, just make a bet that it's his stomach that's all in.

The match started that I weighed 267 pounds and Johnson 277. My next-up from training had put ten pounds back on me. My twenty advantage over Johnson was about the same that Jeffries had when he was at home.

As we sat down, waiting for the ring to be cleared, I gave my first look at the crowd. The ring was pitched right under the bleachers on the track itself, and as far as I could see there was a sea of faces. Some of the seats were as far away as the quarter pole.

The boxes in the grandstand were taken up by the elite of Havana, although I saw American faces here and there. What interested me most were the heroes of the racetrack. I have never before looking hot and right when the bell rang. I was shaking up my mind to find out about their breeding.

But the sound of the bell put everything out of my mind except the big black man who came shuffling to the center of the ring. He had the queer, soft, quick step of a bear, and he looked every bit as dangerous.

I fought and in my battle in that very first round. As he slipped in and out, his arms moving in little dodging circles, it was all I could do to keep from laughing out. I felt that unless I hit first one of those fists would come whirling over like a rich executive's shell.

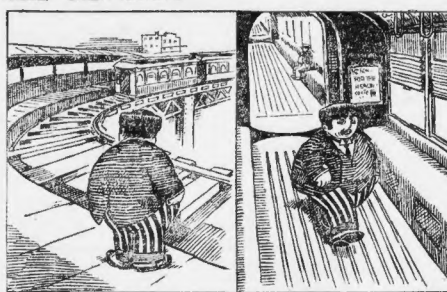

It made me understand why every other man had carried the fight to Johnson. He makes you think of a cat waiting in pounce. But I caught both of myself and knew that I'd make him lead first if it took an hour.

(Tomorrow Willard will continue the story of the fight.)
